

Asks Grand Jury To Investigate Road Commiss'n

SUPERVISORS ASK RESIGNATION OF COUNTY BOARD

Crawford County Board of Supervisors rared up and "took the bull by the horns," and asked the County Board of Road Commissioners to resign.

Stories of irregularities by members of that body stirred the ire of members of the Supervisors. Investigation of some of the stories concerning some of the actions of some of the members of the Road Commission were given first-hand investigation which resulted in a request being made on Road Commissioner Arthur Howse to resign.

The next morning (Tuesday), the Board resumed its deliberations. A request was made on the Road Commissioners to resign in a body. This Commissioners Howse and Bobenmoyer were willing to do, but Harry Souders, chairman of the commission refused to do so. At the present time the members of the Road Commission are appointed by the County Board of Supervisors. Accordingly such appointees may be dismissed at the pleasure of the Supervisors. Mr. Souders was elected by the voters before that plan was adopted and accordingly his removal may only be done by process of law and for cause.

The Board of Supervisors, feeling that there had been irregularities in the conduct of the Commission affairs that there should be a grand jury investigation. The following, which is the official report of the proceedings of this special session, will be of interest to our readers, especially those who are interested in county tax affairs.

Benedict Stockholm Marries in East

Rev. and Mrs. P. C. Stockholm accompanied by their daughters Kirsten and Emilie returned Friday from South Portland, Maine, where they had been in attendance at the wedding of their son, Benedict, that occurred on July 28th. The following report of the wedding in part appeared in the Portland Evening Express, together with a lovely group picture of the bridal party:

The Rev. Christian Stockholm of Grayling, Mich., was the officiating clergyman Sunday when Miss Elsie J. Haugaard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Haugaard of Broadway, South Portland, became the bride of his son, Benedict M. Stockholm, in St. August Lutheran Church. Mr. Haugaard gave his daughter in marriage. Wedding music was played by Miss Elizabeth Christensen, and Miss Gladys Williams sang, preceding the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white lace with fingertip veil. Her bouquet was lilies. Mrs. John A. Baird attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a gown of peach organdy with a bouquet of talisman roses. The Misses Emilie and Kirsten Stockholm of Grayling, sisters of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. Both wore gowns of aqua net and carried bouquets of gladioluses.

Leard Thomsen of Linden, N. J., was best-man for Mr. Stockholm. The ushers were John A. Baird and Raymond E. Lord. A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. Stockholm and his bride will reside at Cumberland Center. Mrs. Stockholm is a graduate of South Portland High School, attended Grand View College at Des Moines, Ia., and was graduated from Dr. Leighton's Hospital.

Mr. Stockholm, a graduate of Dike High School, attended Iowa State Teachers' College and Grand View College. He is employed here.

The marriage of the young people was the culmination of a romance that began while they were students at Grand View College. The groom has hosts of friends in Grayling who extend congratulations and best wishes to them.

Laying Out 30 Miles Of Ski Trails

On the morning of August 13, three men rode at top speed on the new ski trails of the Crawford County Road Commission. The trails, which are being laid out by the Crawford County Road Commission, are being laid out by the Crawford County Road Commission. The trails, which are being laid out by the Crawford County Road Commission, are being laid out by the Crawford County Road Commission.

John Rogers, assistant chief of the conservation department, parks division, and Arthur J. Barth of Milwaukee, secretary, and Edmund Cullen, junior, member of the engineering committee of the Central United States Amateur Ski Association, are enthusiastic after their preliminary survey over possibilities for ski developments for the conservation department's Grayling winter sports park.

Though the park in winter is equipped with six toboggan slides and a skating rink, there has been no provision recently for skiers, except the natural slopes. Because the course of much of the proposed 30 miles of ski trails lies within the Hamon State Military Reservation, then development is contingent upon approval of military authorities. If approval is obtained, clearing of the trails will begin this year and continue in the summer of 1941.

Contemplated improvements include construction of ski jumping towers that will accommodate tournaments of the country's best jumpers. Besides a big jump, there is planned a junior jump and smaller jumps on which beginners can learn, and experts can practice for "form." All will conform to United States Amateur Ski Association specifications. Downhill or slalom course also are planned.

The ski trails are to be laid out over some of Michigan's highest land (including the Three Sisters range and Cote Dame Marie and Westgate hills) in such a way that the novice may enjoy them and the expert still can find thrills along their slopes and curving contours.

CELEBRATED SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Sunday marked the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McLeod, and throughout the day friends and relatives came to extend congratulations. In the evening about thirty ladies and gentlemen gathered at the McLeod home for a social evening. The rooms were decorated with a profusion of flowers, and a buffet lunch was served from a table centered with a pink glass bowl holding pink and white flowers.

The McLeods received several lovely gifts of silver, besides numerous congratulatory cards and telegrams.

ENTERTAIN WITH PANTRY SHOWER

When several friends of Miss Jayne Keyport received an invitation with the foil-wing little verse on it.

"A woman named Hubbard Went to her cupboard And found that her cupboard was bare. So that that won't repeat. When Bob wants a treat We'll fill up the larder for him."

They immediately began thinking of ideas for novel pantry-shower gifts, and judging by the unusually attractive packages that arrived everyone had a different idea.

Mrs. Oscar Schumann and daughters, Mrs. Jack Bauer and Mrs. Arnold Smith, were the hostesses Friday afternoon and the guests were served luncheon on small tables scattered throughout the rooms.

The color-scheme of red, white and blue was carried out in the flower arrangements, place-cards and bridge tallies. High scores for bridge which followed the luncheon, were held by Mrs. Harold MacNeven and Mrs. Clark Scafford of Gladwin.

Among the out of town guests were Mrs. Walter Woodson, Salisbury, N. C.; Mrs. Helen Roulter, Mrs. A. E. Mason, Detroit; Mrs. Charles Canfield, Royal Oak; Mrs. Clark Scafford, Gladwin; Mrs. D. D. Fox, Dallas, Texas, and Mrs. Richard Snyder, Saginaw.

Antarctic Lemonade

Scientists have discovered a mixture of chalk and lemonade in mineral form at a depth of 13,000 feet in the Weddell sea of Antarctica. The scientists cannot explain how the citric acid of lemonade, heretofore found only in plants, came to be at the bottom of the Antarctic.

Hatchery Supt. Talks About Trout Culture

HANS L. PETERSON WAS GUEST KIWANIS SPEAKER

Hans L. Peterson, superintendent of the Grayling Fish Hatchery, was the guest speaker at the Kiwanis Club luncheon Wednesday. President Farnham Matsun presided. Holger Peterson was chairman of the program. In the absence of song leader Dr. Clippett, Charles E. Moore wielded the baton. He was assisted by Lloyd Wright.

There was a large number of guests present, among whom was Senator Miles Caninehan.

Mr. Peterson stated that the hatchery had been established in the year 1914. It was then the property of Grayling Fish Hatchery. This was purchased by the State Conservation Commission in the year 1926. At that time it contained 66 acres and was a small hatchery. It has since been expanded to 300,000 fish. This hatchery is one of the largest in the State. It has a capacity of 2,000,000 fish.

At present Michigan has 11 fish hatcheries, 13 state rearing ponds, and 25 private ponds. These are distributed in 11 districts.

The license money from the hatcheries alone amounts to $1,750,000 annually. There is a general open discussion of the hatchery and its importance to the state. Mr. Peterson's talk was very interesting and revealing and was well appreciated by the audience.

Next Wednesday's meeting has been changed to 6:30 p. m. and will be held in Roscommon.

Bride Feted at Lovely Party

The Officers' club house, at Lake Michigan, was the scene of a lovely party given by the Grayling Kiwanis Club for the bride, Miss Elsie J. Haugaard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Haugaard of Broadway, South Portland, Maine. The party was given by the Grayling Kiwanis Club for the bride, Miss Elsie J. Haugaard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Haugaard of Broadway, South Portland, Maine.

The club house took on a festive air as the two hundred guests arrived at nine-thirty. Excellent music for dancing was furnished by Bennie Bauman's orchestra, which is engaged for the summer at Topkapi.

The verandas, ballroom and party were filled with groups before the village of Whitefish Bay. A buffet lunch was served from a table centered with a pink glass bowl holding pink and white flowers.

The most minute details had been arranged for by those entertaining, for the comfort and pleasure of the guests, making the party one of the loveliest of the season.

The list of out of town guests included:

Mrs. Marion Burch, Miss Lola Wigham, Traverse City; Mr. and Mrs. Donald "Bullman" Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Bauer, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Richard Snyder, Saginaw.

"Outlaw the Vigilante" says J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI, in the first article in the special issue of the week magazine. The article is a warning to the vigilantes to stop their lawless activities and to let the law take its course.

"Too Close to Panama Canal" is the title of the second article. It is a warning to the United States to be careful of its interests in the Panama Canal zone.

The magazine is a timely and interesting read. It contains many other articles of interest to the general public.

10¢ PER ACRE LAND TAX BRINGS NEARLY QUARTER MILLION

Payment of $235,000 to townships and local school districts in lands owned by the state in 1939 has begun, the land division of the conservation department reported today.

The payment represents an annual 10 cents an acre fee on 2,359,760 acres of land owned by the state and administered by the conservation department. Practically all of it lies north of the Muskegon-Bay City line.

First checks, totalling $34,858.40 are for 348,594 acres, on which the levy is paid out of the game protection fund. The other $201,141.60 is paid from the general fund on 2,011,166 acres of tax homestead and swamp lands.

Only the first 1,000 acres of state parks having a caretaker is exempt from the levy.

PLEDGE TO THE FLAG

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands. One Nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

WHY THE DRAFT?

With congress wrestling over a bill for conscription of our boys into the army, we wonder why the draft is needed. Is this country at war, and, if so, with whom?
If we are not at war, why have to hustle our boys off to military training camps?

However, if war may be imminent, we still cannot see the need for conscription. That method would tear away from homes and from colleges and vocations promiscuously millions of American youth. Homes and careers would be broken and many lost forever.

If this country needs a big army, we believe it would be more humane and less costly if the government would offer such inducements as would attract voluntary enlistments. By making the pay a reasonable one we believe there would be more enlistments. By making the pay a reasonable one we believe there would be more enlistments than the country would need. Let the government pay its soldiers $90.00 per month instead of $21.00 and we believe there would be no difficulty to raise such an army as might be required even in war time.

The increase in pay we believe would be less costly than the expense of setting up and conducting the machinery necessary for conscription. About 23 years ago this country experienced the laborious and costly method of conscription to raise its World War army. That cost millions of dollars and millions of American youths, indiscriminately, were hurried off to army camps and to the trenches of France and Belgium. They didn't have a chance to choose the service they preferred to enter.

If again this country has to raise an army, let's at least make the pay attractive enough to encourage voluntary enlistments. It should be at least somewhat adequate to compensate for the risks that may be involved. If that is done we have reason to believe voluntary enlistments would come freely. It would be better that the huge sum required to conduct the draft be added to the pay of the soldiers.

Opportunity in Naval Aviation Increasing

The fact that the Air Arm of the Navy is expanding more rapidly than the construction of surface vessels, is affording great opportunity in all phases of naval aviation, was pointed out today by Commander Carson R.
Miller, Officer in charge of Navy recruiting for Michigan and the Toledo area of Ohio.

"Actually, about 40% of the young men now entering the Navy from this area are sent to one of the many types of aviation schools maintained by the Navy, following their period of elementary training," said the Commander, continuing. "All men who enter the Navy have the same opportunities. We place these young men in the type of work for which they are best adapted. By the use of aptitude tests and competitive examinations, each individual has equal opportunity to qualify for one of the fifty-six trades and over one-hundred specialties taught by the schools of the Navy."

Local Government to Acquire Delinquent Tax Lands

Arrangements for transfer from state to local government ownership of tax delinquent lands that cities and villages can use will be carried a step farther at conferences scheduled by the conservation department in 20 northern Michigan towns, beginning Monday.

Land transfers are part of a comprehensive program of land use to be recommended by local officials for recently reverted properties in their localities. The lands may be acquired by local governments for such public purposes as school sites or recreational developments, or their sale, or reservation from sale, may be recommended.

August meetings are on August 12 at West Branch; 13 at Clare; 14, Rogers City; 15, Alpena; 16,
East Tawas; 19, Cheboygan; 20
Petoskey; 21, Boyne City; 22, Mancelona; 23, Traverse City; 26,
Big Rapids; 27, Cadillac; 28, Frankfort; 29, Manistee; 30, Ludington. September meetings are on September 11 at Reed City; 12, Hart; 13, Newaygo; 18, Standard; 19, Gaylord.

Each conference accommodates three to six neighboring towns.
In the upper peninsula, meetings will begin about September 5.

A grant from the American Municipal association and cooperation of the Michigan Municipal League and the state board of control of vocational education make possible the conferences, of which this is the second series. Plans and proposals developed since the first conferences will be checked, and formal instruments of exchange prepared.

Cheboygan Takes Grayling 12-7

The Cheboygan Papermill team holders of third place in the Northern Michigan Baseball league, got off to a five run lead in the opening inning last Sunday at the local park and went on to score a 12-7 victory over the Grayling Merchants.

Pat Kotka was the losing pitcher, giving up five hits for seven runs in the one and one-third innings he worked. Elmer Kelllogg replaced him and pitched three-hit ball for six and two-third innings but weakened in the ninth to allow the Papermill to score four runs on three hits, a base on balls, and a hit batter.

Keith Bowen was Grayling's leading hitter with three for five, which gave him second place in the league's leading hitter. Cho-boygan's leading hitter was Hal Bonnott, the league's leading slugger, with three for five.

Grange Notes

The meeting of the Aug. 3rd had a good turnout; also the juvenile members had the largest roll call in some time.

Mr. and Mrs. F. DeLaMater of Gaylord were present. Mr. De-LaMater conferred the third and fourth degrees on Charles Moore.
There are several members who have not had the last two degrees as yet but should do so before long. A cooperative lunch was enjoyed after meeting.

The date has been set for the bake sale and contest—August 24th. Members, don't forget this important event. There will be prizes given on breads, cakes, pies, cookies, and quick bread.

The men have as much of a chance as the women have to win a prize. To the members who do not enter the contest, we need a good supply of all kinds of baked goods as the Grange bake sales go over big and we never have enough to supply the demand. It helps the building fund also, which is a very important thing. Don't forget the place and date, at the Grange hall, August 24.

September 7 has been selected as the time for the annual Grange picnic, but the place was not decided on. The decision will be made at the next meeting, Saturday, August 17th, so a good attendance is wanted. Committees will be appointed for the bake sale and picnic, so if you do not want to be on a committee, come out and say so. This will be an afternoon meeting. Dinner at 12.

This is a good time for the farmers and gardeners to choose some special thing to enter in the Harvest Festival which we expect to hold later on. No matter what it is, corn, potatoes, grain, beets, anything that you have.
The people in town are invited to enter anything they wish also.
There will be a flower show at the same time.

Intelligent people welcome mechanical inventions which add to the comfort and convenience of living.

Michigan and have made it possible for him to do wonderful things for conservation, resort business, agriculture, schools and highways. He is endorsed by the conservation organizations of the state as an outstanding man organizations, including the State Grange, Farm Bureau and other great farm groups have endorsed him and his work for Northern Michigan, particularly his District, and these accomplishments for the people of his District will not be forgotten in the Primaries

CONGRESS UNDER GUARD

WASHINGTON.—It has been done so quietly that only a few officials know it, but congress now is being guarded by the most elaborate police system since World war days.
The legislators are protected almost as carefully as the President.

The first step was taken last fall when a detail of G-men and detectives was assigned to reinforce the Capitol's regular police force, which is made up chiefly of patronage appointees, students working their way through school. Then in the spring a squadron of metropolitan uniformed police was sent to the Hill—making a total of 250 blue-coats and plainclothes men guarding 531 senators and representatives.

Last week, still another protective measure was taken in the form of a set of drastic regulations under which:

The Capitol is closed to the public daily at 4:30, except when congress is in session, and admittance is only by special cards.

Guards are stationed at the subway entrances of the senate and house wings to scrutinize everyone going in and out and to examine all packages.

The Capitol's power plant is guarded 24-hours a day.

Plainclothes men accompany every group of sightseers.

All persons who summon members off the floor are kept under constant surveillance.

A constant police vigil is kept in the public galleries, in the restaurants, and at night, in all corridors inside, and the grounds outside.

One reason for these elaborate precautions is to prevent a recurrence of the bombing that took place in the Capitol prior to American entry into the last war. Planted in a senate reception room by a paci-fistic college professor, the bomb exploded at midnight, July 2, 1915, and left the chamber a shambles.

Earlier that day the Washington Times received a letter from the perpetrator announcing his intention to bomb the capitol "as an exclamation point to my appeal for peace."
He was arrested several days later at Mineola, L. I. He committed suicide in his cell.

WILLKIE'S SPEECH

That acceptance speech—Wendell Willkie is writing is one of the toughest jobs he's ever tackled! It can make him or break him.

Willkie has got to crack two of the hardest political nuts ever handed a G. O. P. standard bearer: the power issue and foreign policy.

Even under normal conditions the power issue is pure TNT, particularly in the West, which is strong for public power. For Willkie, with his Wall Street and utility background, the handling of this issue so it doesn't explode in his face is doubly delicate.

Perhaps even more difficult is the question of foreign affairs and its closely related problem of compulsory military service. On the latter, Willkie has never declared himself and the Republican platform also is silent.

Roosevelt has declared for "universal training," although so far he has not expressed a view on the pending bill. But his leaders are for it and it's generally considered an administration measure.

On foreign policy, particularly on aid to the British, the President's record is an open book. And so was Willkie's until he was nominated.
Since that moment not one word has come from him on this all-important topic, though he has talked daily on various other matters.

It didn't leak out at the time, but when Willkie visited Washington early last month, the G. O. P. isolationists, led by Senator Vandenberg, tried to corral the new candidate and give him a big isolationist sales talk; warning him to pipe down on aiding the British. But Willkie sidestepped the bloc and they didn't get a chance to put on the pressure.

Note—Regardless of what Willkie says, running-mate Sen. Charles Mc-Nary is isolationist and pro-public power. He intends to say so in his acceptance speech late this month.

THE LAFOLLETES

In the current pre-campaign jock-eysing for position, both Republican and Democratic chiefs are warily watching Wisconsin's famous brothers LaFollette—Senator Bob, who is up for re-election this year, and ex-Governor Phil, who since his defeat two years ago has been quietly promoting a "Fuehrer-principle" kind of organization which he launched in the spring of 1938 with a lot of fanfare.

Bob LaFollette faces a tough battle. Three key voting blocs in the state are the large German, Scandinavian and Polish groups. Obviously playing for the favor of the first two, Bob was a very active isolationist last November.

But this stand boomeranged when Hitler invaded the unarmed Scandinavian countries. So with the Poles already down on him, the disaffection of the Scandinavians was a serious blow.

There is no question of LaFollette's personal hostility toward Hitler and Nazism.

Hudson's County Histories Interest Readers

The J. L. Hudson store of Detroit has been publishing a series of historical sketches of the several counties of Michigan. These appear along with their display advertisements.

The county sketches are written by Dr. Milo M. Quaife, M. A.
Ph. D., who is believed to be better qualified to write them than any other person in Michigan.

The writeup of Crawford County as taken from a recent Hudson store advertisement appears herewith. The flag design was the idea of Joseph B. Mills, Hudson publicity director.

Mrs. George W. McCullough of Kalamazoo is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles O. McCullough, expecting to remain for some time.

Esbern Olson showed his prowess Monday when he made an eagle on the eighth hole. Two strokes and into the hole on a four par is an unusual privilege.

The Weather

We are still enjoying warm summer weather, with just enough rain once in a while to keep everything green. The evenings are cool so that one can sleep well, and an extra blanket came in handy last night (Wednesday) when the temperature dropped to 45 degrees. Sunday, Monday and Tuesday the mercury hovered between 80 and 85 degrees.

Orient's First Mission

Sancien Island, scene of the establishment of the first Christian mission in the Orient, is the land in which St. Francis Xavier established a mission in spite of efforts to keep him and his band out of the Orient.
And on this island he lies buried.
In late August, 1552, he landed on the island, called Chang-shuen-shan, off the coast of Kwangtung, which served as a rendezvous for Europeans. Soon after his arrival Xavier was seized with a fever and died there.

CRAWFORD

CRAWFORD COUNTY is one of the least populous in Michigan, and has the second lowest agricultural development in the state. In 1818 Governor Cass established a Crawford County in Wisconsin, which was then a part of Michigan Territory. Present-day Crawford was set off in 1840 and named SHAWONO. In 1843 the name Crawford was substituted, whether in memory of the former Crawford County, or in honor of Colonel Crawford, friend of Washington, who perished at the stake in northern Ohio in 1782, is uncertain. Near Grayling the AuSable and Manistee rivers are only a few miles apart, thereby furnishing an almost direct and continuous waterway across the Lower Peninsula.
Near Grayling is the training ground of the Michigan National Guard. Hattwick Pines State Park, also near Grayling, is a notable beauty spot. Hunting, fishing, and winter sports attract the tourist and resorter and constitute the principal source of income.

Expert in Safety

New kind of champion is Glenn R. Merithew, 16, about to give Edsel Ford a driving demonstration. Glenn won first place as Michigan's outstanding careful motorist in the Ford Good Drivers League contest for boys of high school age. He is studying commercial art in Cass Technical High School, Detroit. His home is at 2476 Waverly Ave., Detroit. His father, Jerry Merithew, is an insurance inspector. Glenn, one of 6,000 Michigan contestants in the nation-wide trials, is a better-than-average tennis player. He learned to drive 15 months ago. Michigan's young champion will be taken to New York as a guest of the League, attend the Fair, be an honor guest at a banquet—and compete in the finals for the national championship, with a chance of winning one of a number of scholarships. Edsel Ford is president of the League.

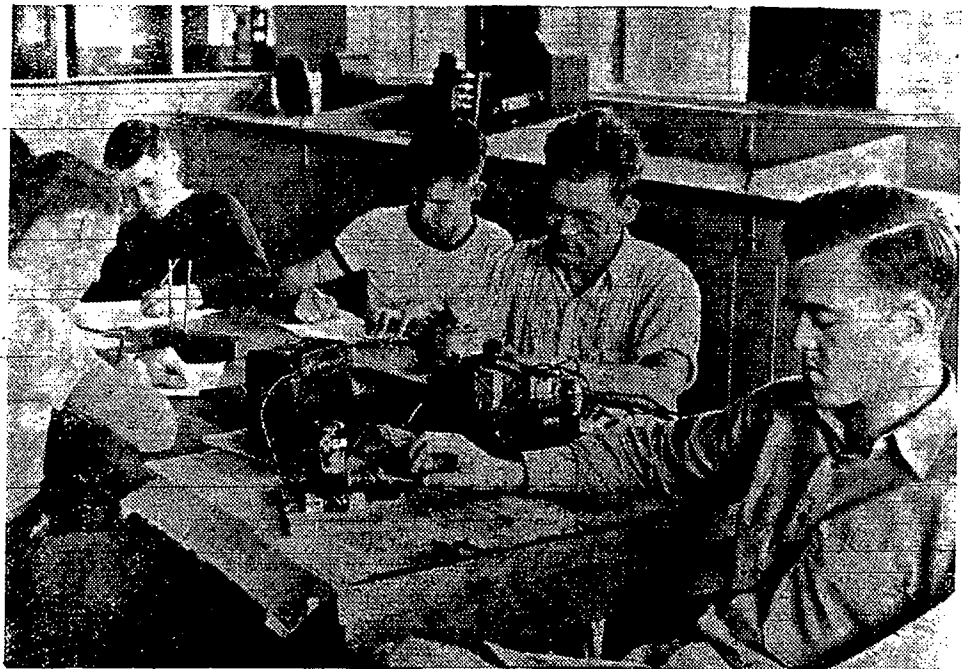

MICHIGAN'S SEAPLANE FLOATS DEDICATED THIS SUMMER

Air-minded tourists are being added to Michigan's annual throng of vacationers with the installation of seaplane floats constructed by the National Youth Administration in cooperation with local communities, according to Orin W. Kaye, State NYA Administrator. The above picture taken at a recent dedication of a float installed at Harbor Springs is a typical scene at many lakes this summer where similar services are being held. Captain Robert S. Fogg reports that Michigan is now leading the nation in the number of seaplane floats. That this service is attracting seaplane owners from all parts of the country is attested by the recent arrival of planes from as far distant as Boston, Massachusetts. There are 47 such floats installed, under construction or under consideration.

A CODE FOR FUTURE JOBS

Learning to send an S.O.S. may be the answer to the S.O.S. of these young people looking for jobs in private industry. Twenty youth such as those shown above are getting practical experience and training in various phases of radio at the Cassidy Lake Resident Work Project of the Michigan National Youth Administration. Training in the fundamentals of commercial radio operation, amateur transmitting and receiving, radio construction, and servicing is received on the project. Instructor Virgil R. Owens is shown in the foreground sending code messages while NYA enrollees transcribe them as they are heard over a loud speaker in the room. The Cassidy project has a total enrollment of over 200 unemployed youth gaining diversified experience designed to fit them for private jobs.

Washington Notes And Comments

By Congressman Roy O. Woodruff Tenth Michigan District.

The nation is now witnessing a repetition of the scenes and occurrences of 1917, when wild-eyed zealots and loud-mouthed exponents of intolerance undertook immediately to impugn the motives and to blast the reputation of anyone who disagreed with their demand that this nation go to war. One of the most vociferous and hot tempered bigots of them all was a certain Detroit industrialist whose business organization later secured fat war contracts on a cost plus ten per cent basis. After the war this same business organization was compelled by this government to retrace to the Treasury more than $1,500,000 which a government audit disclosed had been overpaid on its contracts. This instance is only one of many of like character which occurred at that time.

There are still in the United States Congress men who were then branded as traitors to their country because they dared to advocate caution and coolness in sending American boys to spill their blood and give up their lives in the fields of France. We all know of the dreadful injustices and persecutions which occurred under the hysteria of war in those days, persecutions and injustices which have been regretted ever since by every right-thinking American citizen.

Yet today the same mistakes are being repeated, the same injustices are being wrought, the same intolerance is being shown, not alone in connection with the foreign policy being followed by the Administration, but also in connection with the political campaign.

Men of high standing, of outstanding achievements, of unquestioned patriotism and of proven experience and ability, such as Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, are being bitterly attacked by spokesmen for the Administration, because they dare to differ with the views of the little crowd of exploiters and opportunists surrounding the President.

"Fifth columnist" has become a common epithet in the vocabulary of those who would again lead this country into war on a wave of hysteria and manufactured fear.

The President himself is now bitterly condemning those who refuse to agree to his third term aspirations. Even his early supporters, who, after finding the trends and the tendencies of this New Deal Administration, had to part company with it, are not safe from the acid of his denunciations. Men who, while they were supporting him, the President declared to be the greatest patriots in the nation, regardless of whether they were Republicans or Democrats or Socialists or Communists, he is now quick to condemn if they disagree either with his policies or with his ambitions.

There is one trait that has been common to all dictators throughout history. It is common of all dictators today. That trait is intolerance of criticism, disagreement, or opposition to their policies. Every dictator history has ever known has crushed out as quickly as he could every agency of criticism or opposition as soon as he attained to sufficient power.

No well read person can deny that we have witnessed in this nation attempt after attempt to crush out newspapers, members of Congress—any sort of opposition or criticism of New Deal policies and acts.

It is time for the American people to awaken to the danger that is indicated by these, significant attacks which are so quickly made by spokesmen of the Administration on those who dare to disagree with their policies or their acts.

In that day when any political party in America rises above criticism, we can prepare for the dictator to come. Whenever it becomes un-American, unpatriotic, or unsafe for any citizen, from the most humble farmer to the highest figure in industry or finance, honestly to criticize the policies and the acts of the public servants, in that day the American way is ended and dictatorship has begun.

There are people in this country, people in places of power and influence, who want to take this nation into war. They want to embroil us in the conflict now going on in Europe. And they, of course, want no opposition; they want no criticism; they will spare no effort to impugn the motives and if necessary to assassinate the character of anyone who opposes them.

But it still remains a fact that in the United States of America we can say what we think, and so long as we have that privilege the plotters cannot too easily persuade us into war.

Elementary Education

As an active process, elementary education should play its fair part in the growth and development of the child by making it possible for him to:

Keep Well. To keep clean in mind and body; to get enough sleep and rest; to conserve sight and hearing; to select wholesome foods; to keep the body functioning at its best; and to follow health rules that protect others—these are practical activities.

Work With Others. To be considerate in all situations; to make friends; to appreciate one's family; to enjoy strangers; to work with people singly or in large or small groups for the best interests of others and of the child himself—these form the basis of cooperation.

Enjoy Leisure. To enjoy music, books, art, nature, sports, and other pastimes; to share these experiences with others; to develop talents; to feel an urge to create; to know ways of using leisure time wisely—these are experiences that re-create.

Compete With Self. To speak and write clearly; to read understandingly; to use numbers effectively; to develop a scientific attitude of mind; to get first-hand experiences with many materials and processes; to become a wise consumer; to master these arts on increasingly higher levels—these are necessities for living.

Solve Problems. To meet problems squarely; to recognize one's own problems and those which affect the family and the community; to use past experiences in analyzing and solving problems; to learn from each new problem-solving situation—these are evidences of ability to think.

Appraise Self. To set up and use fair standards of action, workmanship, and accomplishment in "judging one's self; to profit by strengths and weaknesses; to harmonize purposes and desires with those of others; to be aware of spirit as well as mind and body—these are measures of a well-developed personality.

MOVING PICTURES ARE NOT A RECENT INVENTION

Although modern movies are credited to Thomas Edison's invention called the "Kinetoscope" in 1894, the truth is that motion pictures were seen by the ancient Greeks. These people painted pictures in progressive fashion on successive pillars, and when they rode past on horseback they got the effect of characters in motion. Later they painted pictures in spiral sequence on single revolving pillars. When these were spun by ropes, the audience thrilled to actual motion pictures. Strangely enough, Edison's first motion-picture machine recorded spirals of tiny pictures which appeared to move when whirled. Later he put them on strips of photographic film which fed through his kinetoscope in a jerky fashion, producing the effect of motion in the pictures which were really still.

Spicing Up Trade

Progress in production of spices in this country is noted by the American Spice Trade association, reporting that of 25,000,000 pounds of mustard seed used last year, 17,700,000 pounds were domestically grown. Production in 1940 is expected to reach 20,000,000 pounds here.

Dutch East Indies Are Vital to U. S.

THE DUTCH EAST INDIES, richest colonial empire in the world, are a group of more than 20 thousand abundantly fertile islands inhabited by nearly 70 million brown-skinned natives—for the most part gentle, peaceable and highly cultured.

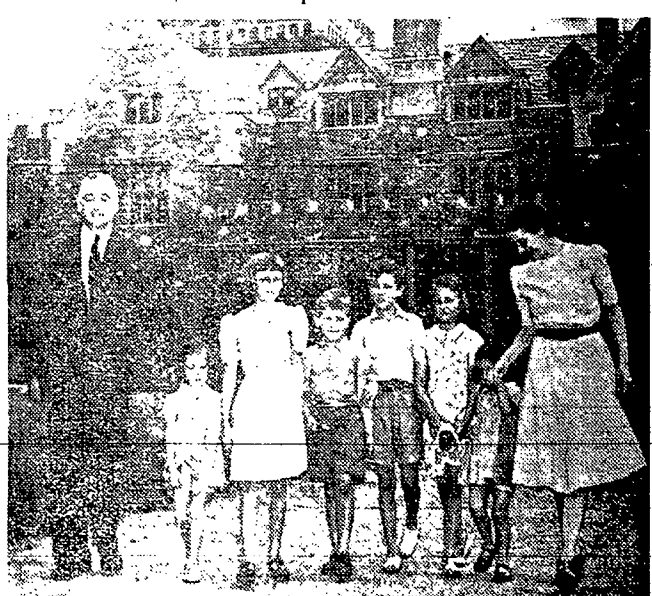

TO THE U. S., the Dutch East Indies are an all-important source of rubber and tin, commodities which are vital to America's current National Defense program. The possibility that Japanese aggression may shut off the supply of these essential raw materials seriously concerns U. S. military strategists today.

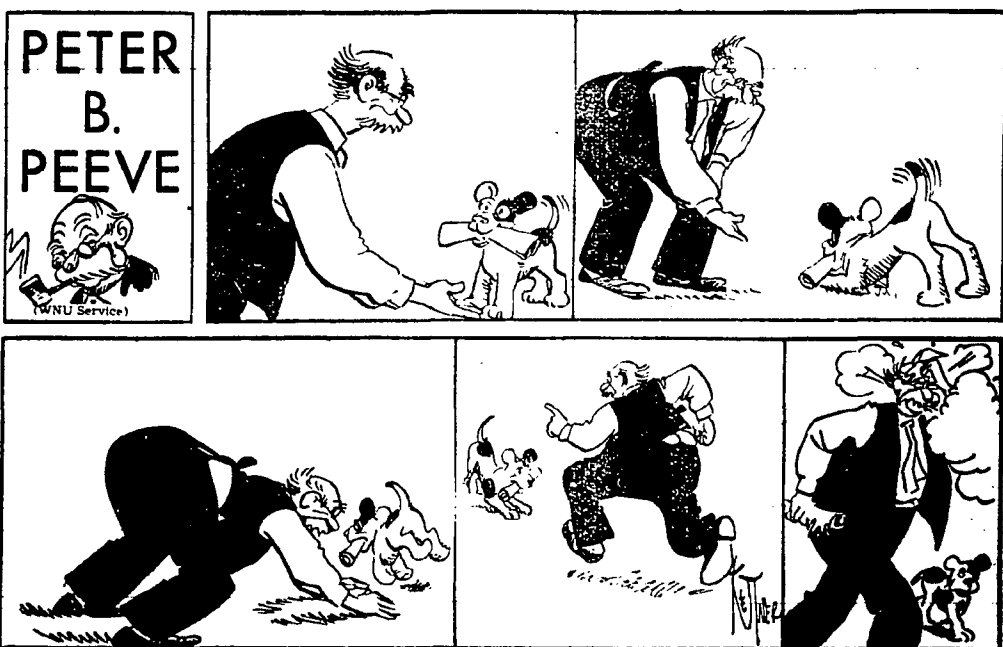

JAPAN demands unlimited access to the vast oil fields of Borneo and Sumatra in the Dutch East Indies. For war and blockade has cut down Japan's other sources of supply. With the Netherlands itself already conquered by Nazi Germany, the latest March of Time film "Spoils of Conquest" shows the people of the Dutch East Indies are today virtually unprotected. But with their army, air force and navy already mobilized and in training, and with the waters surrounding their islands already mined, the March of Time film shows the people of the Indies hope to discourage invasion by making it costly for the invader. Their greatest hope is that so long as the U. S. still stands guard nearby in the Philippines, Japan will not dare strike the blow which she means to drive the white man forever from the Orient.

NERVOUSNESS IN MOTHERS

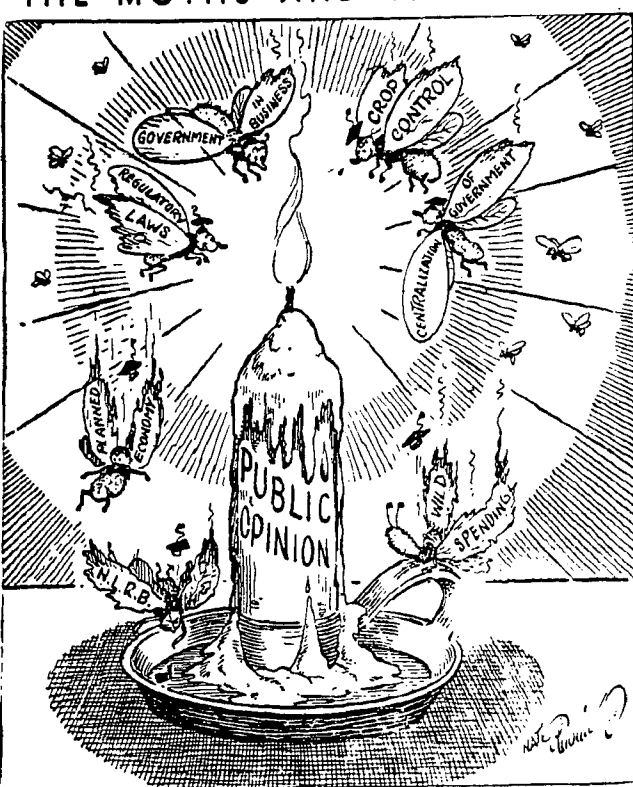

Mrs. J. B. appeals for a discussion in this column of mothers who, like herself, feel nervous and would like to do something about it. She says the little children are the ones who bear the brunt of the mother's tension. Nervousness in mothers is no different than nervousness in other people and it has a number of causes, the most frequent of which is fatigue. Those who are tired constantly become irritable. The first measure in managing such cases is the physical examination to determine whether the weight is normal, whether the organs are functioning satisfactorily or whether some disease is present that is interfering seriously with normal health. If the examination is entirely negative then the daily routine of the patient is taken into consideration. Rest is prescribed and is frequently needed. The dietary faults are corrected so that not only the foods presented to the body for assimilation are in the right proportion but of the best quality.

Many mothers are under temporary nervous tension because of recognized or unrecognized worries and fears not related to the children. These involve financial and domestic difficulties and sometimes concern social obligations or the lack of them. These fears give rise to nervousness and these in turn produce fatigue.

Another cause of nervousness in mothers is worry about the children. Mothers rightly fear accidents which cause so many deaths and injuries to children. They worry about where they are, who their associates are and whether or not they may be causing trouble at the moment. They worry considerably sometimes about the food which children like or dislike. If the child is afflicted with an allergic disease such as asthma or hayfever or has some structural defect or mental fault a great deal of worry is manifested. This leads to loss of weight and fatigue.

The routine of home management is a common cause of nervousness in mothers. A trip or social visit, eating out on a picnic occasionally is needed to offset the drudgery of housework. Careful medical management including a great deal of rest will be helpful toward relieving it. Several nights of sound sleep may change the whole atmosphere of the home. The second remedy is to learn to live for the day only, not to worry about what is going to happen tomorrow or regret what may have happened yesterday but to keep the mind solely upon the task at hand and take the joys and sorrows of life as they come.

Can Only Best Quality Peaches

When peaches are plentiful and the price is right, many home-makers can the surplus for winter eating. And along in December the canned peaches are more than welcome as a breakfast fruit, in salads, and in all kinds of desserts.

The quality of canned peaches depends largely on the quality of the fresh peaches used, explain members of the home economics staff, Michigan State College. Canning does not improve the quality of the fruit, and only the very best peaches are suitable.

To make sure of the quality, look for peaches that are firm and ripe but not soft. Avoid those that are badly bruised, those with brown spots of decay, and those that are uneven in shape and have punchers made by worms. The pink blush which is found on many varieties of peaches tells little about the quality. But the rest of the color on the outside of the peach is very important. If this background color is green, the peach may ripen with a poor flavor or it may become shriveled. But the peach is a safe buy if this green color has changed to a yellow or whitish-yellow color.

Peaches are easy to can successfully, but they are likely to turn an unpleasant brown color if they are not handled correctly. The best way to avoid this brown discoloration is to heat the peaches in the sirup for 3 to 5 minutes and then pack them into the jars or cans while they are hot. Heating the peaches this way makes them pack better and cuts down the time needed to process them.

The water-bath method of processing peaches is more successful than the oven method. The oven method is slower, and the fruit may turn brown before it is heated through. Also, when peaches in glass jars are processed in the oven, the juice bubbles out, leaving the top peach "high and dry."

Where Profits Go
Department, dry goods and general merchandise stores throughout the country receive about 52,000,000 complaints a year, which cost merchants on the average one dollar each in operating expense and markdowns, according to William J. Pilat, professor of retailing at the University of Pittsburgh.

Pretty close to a frost early this Thursday morning.

It may be called "Fifth Column Activity" but to us it's the vilest type of treason.

Mrs. Algot Johnson was hostess to the Danish Ladies Reading Circle at her home Wednesday afternoon.

A number of ladies gathered at the home of Mrs. Alfred Hanson Sunday evening to help her celebrate her birthday anniversary. The hostess served a delicious lunch. Mrs. M. T. Younken of Detroit and Mrs. Edward Creque of Flint were out of town guests.

Pearly Bass, who formerly resided in Maple Forest previous to the World War was in Grayling the first of the week visiting some of his old wartime buddies. Mr. Bass enlisted in the army at Camp Grayling and served overseas in the company in which Otto Failing, "Babe" Laurant and Neil Mathews served. His parents reside in Kansas, and he now is a secret service man in Washington, D. C.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Margaret Woods, daughter of Mrs. John S. Woods of Flint, to Dr. John H. McEwan of Bay City. The wedding took place in Mt. Pleasant Saturday and after an extended motor trip Dr. and Mrs. McEwan will return to Bay City to make their home. The bride with her parents formerly resided in Grayling and after leaving here came back on frequent visits.

Grayling American Legion Drum and Bugle corps and other members of the Legion will be in Bay City over the week end in attendance at the state convention of the American Legion. The convention opens Saturday with the 40 and 8 parade staged that evening. On Monday afternoon will occur the big dress parade that will be the highlight of the convention. Grayling drum corps are practicing nightly getting ready for the big show. The parade is scheduled to start at 2:00 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Nystrom of Cadillac, who at one time resided in Grayling and rented an apartment at the George Miller home, both died as the result of an auto accident that occurred Aug. 6th near Reed City. Mr. Nystrom was killed instantly and his wife passed away Friday from injuries. They were members of Michelson Memorial church while here and Mrs. Nystrom was an ardent worker. Mr. Nystrom was employed for Kerry & Hanson Co., and left here for Cadillac to work in the postoffice there.

Friends who remember Lucille Phelps, who with her parents at one time resided at the State Game Refuge at Lake Margrethe, will be interested to learn of her marriage. Mrs. Lucille Heron was united in marriage to Mr. Andrew B. Champion on August 8 at Toledo, and the bride's brother and wife Mr. and Mrs. Lee Phelps of Detroit were the attendants. After a motor trip through the north Mr. and Mrs. Champion will make their home in Cass City. Mrs. Champion for the past four years has been Bay City's police matron.

While some of the young kids of Grayling were groaning over having had eaten so many ice cream cones at Dad Hanson's opening of his new store that they were having a whale of a time, Dad was having more fun than they. Kids of both sexes flocked up until they had a big bellyache and still came back for more for that was bargain day—2 cones for a nickel. And sandwiches and sodas were half price too. Dad says he is having specials every day and if anyone thinks that doesn't get 'em, they should drop in and see. Coffee and sandwiches will be added to the bill of fare soon, Dad says.

Senator Ben Carpenter of Harrison was in Grayling Tuesday, calling on a few friends. For six years Mr. Carpenter represented this 28th district in the state senate up to 1938. At that time he declined to be a candidate again, saying that he couldn't afford to hold the senatorship. He was succeeded by Miles Callaghan. It seems that a lot of dissatisfaction developed toward Senator Callaghan and accordingly Mr. Carpenter was strongly urged to again assume the senatorial toga for his district. There are certain things that we especially like about Ben Carpenter. He is honest; he is able, is a worker and is fearless in standing up for what he believes is right. When it comes to making promises, he won't make any that he knows he cannot carry out. One of the most able members of the senate was heard to say that Senator Carpenter could always be depended on to stand squarely back of every constructive piece of legislation that came before the senate.

CUPID HAD BUSY TIME HERE

Don Cupid was more than busy in Frederic recently, as four couples matched to the altar within a month. Erna Barber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Barber, became the bride of Mr. Vance Horner, and the young couple are building a beautiful home on main street, or US 27. It is of concrete trimmed with red brick and will be one of the nicest looking houses in town when finished. While the inquiry reported was in town, we learned that a wedding ceremony for a miscellaneous couple to be held for the bride at the home of her parents on Tuesday evening, Aug. 20th.

Then we learned that Jack Harner and Jack Lutzky, who are among the best bachelors and grooms are building themselves a new house also, and it is located near Mr. Dunaway's father's gas station on US 27.

The third couple to be married was Carl Johnson, one of the proprietors of the Sovereign Works there, and his wife. Was the former Battle Small.

It was late in July when Mr. and Mrs. John Burke, and Mr. N. Lee Vollmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Vollmer, were married. All couples were Frederic young people and we learned that five of them were employed at the Sovereign Works at Mr. and Mrs. Johnson must have started the marriage fever, as they were married on June 29th.

Visiting the Sovereign Works, we found some ten men, and ten women busy engaged in turning out the latest word products that are sold all over town. Mr. Johnson told us he had had a night shift of ten people at work for several weeks up to last week, when he had laid them off as at this season, their business gets a little slow. He told us they make 50 different wood souvenirs and that they were shipped into 20 different states.

Mr. Kendall Welch, driving their car, was the victim of an auto accident last Wednesday when her car was struck on the highway in the business section by a car driven by Ohio parties. Mrs. Welch was bruised and scratched but the children were unhurt.

Mrs. Lloyd Welch is back in Frederic and at the home of her brother Ursie Cox at present, after having been in Grayling hospital and later at the home of her sister-in-law Mrs. Patrick McKay. She was the victim of an auto accident some ten weeks ago, while enroute to Calcutta, Mich., when while driving with her brother Ursie, they ran into an electric locomotive near Rogers City. Mrs. Welch received a compound fracture of the right knee and was otherwise badly cut and bruised about her face and head.

Little Ernest Barber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elroy Barber has been suffering with an abscess under his arm. It was necessary

HE KNOWS WHERE TO FIND LEAKS IN STATE SPENDING

"I will never overlook a single opportunity to help reduce the costs of conducting public business," stated Elton R. Eaton, independent, progressive candidate for lieutenant governor yesterday when discussing state problems with a committee of citizens who had called at his office in Plymouth to offer their assistance in his campaign.

"The state has certain obligations that must be met. It must provide for its institutions, its departments, and its afflicted and its unfortunate. But there is no obligation upon the part of the state to keep a single person on the payroll who is not of real value to the state," declared Mr. Eaton. "I know just how and where these useless job holders hide out and I know how to get rid of them from the state payroll, and I assure you that I will never miss an opportunity to save a tax dollar wherever it can be saved."

Some public job holders have the idea that the only thing they have to do to hold a public job is to live a life of luxury and ease at the expense of the taxpayers, eat up as many tax dollars as they can and do nothing in return for the money they get from the public treasury. I'm against that sort of business. A public job is more than a public trust. It is a golden opportunity for service to the public.

"I know where and how to look for the leaks in state spending, and the people of Michigan can be assured that I will do a real job in trying to prevent the waste of a single tax dollar."

"The legislature has made the lieutenant governor a member of the state administrative board. In this position one can be of untold value to the people if he will exercise the full responsibilities of the job, which I propose to do."

"The trouble during the past seven or eight years has been that while most folks have been living on fried salt pork, corn bread, boiled potatoes and the like in order to exist, a lot of political job holders have splenored against anything except menus consisting chiefly of boneless squab and other rich foods."

"The time is here for public job holders to come down to earth and live like ordinary people, stop making useless automobile trips about the state at the expense of the taxpayers, and devote the time, for which Michigan pays them well, to the public jobs they hold."

"The field for state economy is a big one, and much more can be done to cut expenses down to the bone. That's what I propose to do if elected lieutenant governor," said Eaton.

It will be recalled that the famous Plymouth Lincoln day banquet of fried salt pork, corn meal mush, corn bread, boiled potatoes, and buffalo stew held during the past few years, were originated by Eaton as a rebuke to the $25 per plate banquets held by New Dealers in Detroit. Tickets for Eaton's famous Plymouth banquets never cost more than 50 cents each and as a result capacity crowds attended each year.

Eaton told the committee that his candidacy has met with favor among voters in all parts of the state and he is highly pleased by the encouragement that has been given him.

IT IS NOT BARREN AND LIFELESS AT THE NORTH POLE

Most people believe, with Stephen Leacock, that the Arctic regions are endless miles of ice, snow and desolation, where nothing can live or grow. This is all nonsense, says Vilhjalmur Stefansson in his absorbing book, "Unsettled Mysteries of the Arctic," in which he attacks the armchair explorers and explodes many ideas about the North polar regions. Instead of barren space where nothing will live, he tells of herds of mosquitoes and "bright flowers that carpet the Mackenzie delta." The Arctic is "as full of life as Monte Carlo" and far from the story-book "kind of place, he concludes.

Non-partisan News Letter Michigan Press Association By GENE ALLEMAN

Lansing—The primary next month is Exhibit A of the American belief, prevalent since the days of Andrew Jackson, that a popular election is a certain cure for all ills of government.

Nine persons seek party nomination for governorship. Twenty others aspire for the lieutenant governor position on the ballot.

Compared with the previous record of 190 aspirants for state jobs, this year's political crop brought 240—an all-time high for Michigan. In Wayne county the primary ballots, blanket-size, will contain 509 candidates! It prompted one metropolitan daily newspaper to wonder what was worse—a boss-ridden convention in which slates were fixed in "smoke filled back rooms" or a confusing primary ballot containing so many names that a voter was inclined to throw up his hands in utter helplessness.

It was the old-time party boss, who hand-picked the candidates for state contract reasons, that brought the party convention into ill repute and inspired the popular movement for selection of candidates by popular vote. Now, the other extreme is developing—a primary ballot of blanket size containing 509 candidates in one county alone. As the Detroit commentator wailed, "we merely jumped from the frying pan over to an equally hot griddle."

Democracy will have a tough test right at home!

A Compromise
And yet Michigan's system for selecting state nominees is a compromise between the primary election for all candidates and a convention for the same purpose.

Only two states, Rhode Island and Connecticut, retain the convention system of making nominations for all state offices. Utah in 1937 and New Mexico in 1938 adopted the primary plan, while both Rhode Island and Connecticut have bi-partisan state commissions which are studying the problem.

While many state primaries select all state nominees, Michigan limits its primary to the offices of governor, lieutenant governor, highway commissioner, superintendent of public instruction, and members of the state legislature. Following the primary election each party holds a convention to select, officially by delegates, the nominees for secretary of state, state treasurer, auditor general, and attorney general. As the highway commissioner and superintendent of public instruction are chosen at off-year elections, the 1940 primary will offer two chief state positions—governor and lieutenant governor—in addition to the United States senate nomination.

But even the lists for these positions are formidable. They place a heavy load on the intelligence of the voter, let alone an assumption that he is willing and ready to investigate the merits of each aspirant and to act accordingly.

Imagine the popular dismay if there were four more rows of candidates on the primary ballot for the remaining four positions! Yes, it could be worse.

Dickinson's Rivals

In the apparent belief that 1940 is a "Republican year" and that a popular pendulum will carry all party nominees to victory, seven Michigan men are contesting for the Republican nomination for the governorship. Gov. Luren D. Dickinson, seeking reelection after six terms as lieutenant governor, is opposed by State Treasurer Miller Dunckel, Attorney-General Thomas Read, and State Tax Chairman Melville B. McPherson—all from the official family at Lansing. Others are O. L. Smith, Detroit attorney; Ernest T. Conlon, former state senator from Grand Rapids; and Charles Renaud, Detroit perfume manufacturer. Petitions of Roscoe Conklin Fitch of Ludington, a former newspaperman, have been held invalid.

Murray D. VanWagoner, state highway commissioner, drew a last-minute opponent for the Democratic nomination for governor in Eugene I. VanAntwerp, member of the Detroit city council.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Grand Rapids is also practically unopposed, politically speaking. His ballot opponent for the Republican nomination is Bowen Gover, a Detroit salesman who ran three years ago for three offices, all at the same time.

Democratic candidates for the Vandenberg seat are five in num-

Lieutenant Governor
Not in many a moon have so many people had the same idea at the same time—running for lieutenant governor. The woods are full of aspirants.

Ten Democrats and nine Republicans are among the official hopefuls.

Republicans—Horace T. Barnaby, Grand Rapids; Rep. Elton R. Eaton, Plymouth; Sen. Felix H. Flynn, Cadillac; the Rev. R. N. Holsapple, Cass City; Eugene C. Keyes, Dearborn; Arthur F. Moore, Melvindale; George W. Schudlich, Detroit; James Thompson, Jackson; and Arthur E. Wood, Detroit.

Democrats—Frank Berka, Saginaw; Don W. Canfield, Detroit; Edward T. Kane, Algonac; Sen. David Martin, Flint; Frank Murphy and James L. Murphy, Detroit; Arthur C. E. Strom, Detroit; Charles J. Rzedzinski, Algonac and Anthony J. Wilkowski, Hamtramck.

The sudden death of Frank Fitzgerald, elevated 80-year old Luren D. Dickinson into national prominence as governor of Michigan. The large lists for the office prompted Stuart Perry, editor, Adrian Telegram, to comment approvingly at the increased interest. Perry pointed out that Governor Dickinson, if re-elected, is mathematically more likely to die in office than a younger man would be. The logic is irrefutable.

Short Ballot

One obvious remedy for the overburdened primary is an appointive system for many offices and a resultant short ballot for those to be elected.

Theodore Roosevelt, speaking at the Ohio constitutional convention in 1912, said: "You cannot get good service from the public servant if you cannot see him, and there is no more effective way of hiding him than by mixing him with a multitude of others so that they are none of them important enough to catch the eye of the average work-a-day citizen."

A form of the short ballot is the commission or city manager form for municipal government whereby fewer persons are elected and are held responsible by the voters.

Imposing evidence can be cited for the belief that the public's ability to discriminate among candidates to select wisely is in inverse ratio to the number of choices they are required to make. The longer the ballot lists, the less intelligently the public should be expected to act. Some authorities go so far as to advocate the appointment by the governor or secretary of state, state treasurer, attorney general and possibly the auditor general. Prof. Austin F. Macdonald, University of California, is of the opinion that the auditor general should be elective "for it is necessary to maintain his independence."

One immediate result of the flood of primary candidates was a movement launched by Emerson R. Boyles, following his appointment to the state supreme court, to have the State Bar of Michigan prepare amendments to the law making a felony the writing of false names on primary petitions. Harry F. Kelly, secretary of state, ordered the name of Roscoe Conklin Fitch withheld from primary election ballots on the ground that petition signatures had been gathered for a previous campaign.

"Open" Primary

One of the acts of the Murphy administration was to eliminate a test of party affiliation from the fall primary.

This trend toward what is known as an "open" primary, whereby anyone can vote for a nominee regardless of his party activity—look place in Idaho, North Dakota, Utah and Michigan. In 1939 the Michigan legislature amended the law to require rotation of different party ballots so that each party ticket will be on top an equal number of times. Another amendment has made it necessary for a new party to file petitions signed by 4 per cent (formerly it was 1 1/2) of the vote for the successful candidate for secretary of state. (California requires 10%.)

The 1938 primaries in Kentucky and Missouri led News-Week magazine to declare that effective state political machines were just as successful in primary fights as they were previously in controlling conventions. The July issue of the Political Science Quarterly noted that state-wide direct primaries were gaining ground, despite criticism here and there. The other trend was toward the "open" primary, authorized here in 1937.

Labors of Hercules
The 12 tasks of great difficulty imposed on Hercules by the Argive king were as follows: "To slay the Nemean lion, kill the Lernean hydra, catch and retain the Arcadian stag, destroy the Erymanthian boar, cleanse the stables of King Augeas, destroy the cannibal birds of the Lake Stymphalis, take captive the Cretan bull, catch the horses of the Thracian Diomedes, get possession of the girdle of Hippolyta, queen of the Amazons; take captive the oxer of the monster Geryon, get possession of the apples of the Hesperides and bring up from the infernal regions the three-headed dog Cerberus."

House of Cotton

The Farm Security administration is conducting experiments in the use of cotton as a building fabric. A house has been erected in Coffee, Ala., with roof and walls covered with cotton duck. The material is nailed to a smooth backing of plywood, plaster or composition board. It is painted with a mixture of white lead and linseed oil. The cost of such a house, including modern plumbing and electric wiring, is only about $1,350.
